PROPOSED NEW SITE FOR HIGH SCHOOL.

The committee appointed to secure a site for the proposed new High School, has succeeded in getting options on the majority of the lots in Block 61 bounded by Fifth and Sixth streets, Louise and Mary, consisting of about four and one-third acres, exclusive of streets. The aggregate price of this site is about twenty thousand dollars. There are three good houses and some outbuildings on the property. These improvements are worth about three thousand dollars. It will be remembered that the law requires that the board of trustees shall agree unanimously upon a site to be voted upon before the matter can be put to the people. This was the only site upon which any unanimous agreement could be reached, and is therefore a compromise. It is a block distant from the Pacific Electric car line eastward, and is even of more value for school purposes than the present location of the school, which is too near to the railroad; the noise of the passing cars sometimes interfering with recitations.

Taking into consideration the value of the present High School property, the cost of the proposed new site will be about offset by the amount which it may reasonably be expected can be realized from a sale of the valuable property on the corner of the boulevard and Fourth street.

The law requires that in order to bring the question of a change of site to a vote, a petition shall be presented to the county superintendent, signed by two-thirds of the heads of families in the district affected. It is therefore necessary that 422 names shall be secured to these petitions which are now being circulated. As the task of the committee having charge of this work is somewhat arduous and it is desired to get it completed as soon as possible, heads of families in the district are requested to put their names on any one of the several petitions which are in circulation, at once.

The regular meeting of the board of trustees takes place on Friday afternoon (this is written on Thursday) and if they find matters in such shape as to permit of their calling an election at an early date they will do so

EXHIBIT AND RECEPTION.

On Saturday quite a number of lovers of ceramic art attended an exhibition and studio reception, as the guests of Miss Miriam Harrison, a student at the Railsback Clarence Studio, where the charming affair took place. The beautiful reception hall was aglow with red geraniums and in the department where specimens exhibited were painted in browns, yellow roses were generously and artistically employed. In the room where were shown the students' work done in blues and white tall masses of calla lilies lent their snowy beauty. Those attending with Miss Harrison were Mrs. Ed. Lee and daughter, Dorothy, Miss Mary Blackburn, Mrs. M. P. Harrison, Mrs. E. Stone of Tropico.

CITY TRUSTEES.

Special Meeting, March 14th.

Demands 463 to 471, inclusive, previously referred to finance committee, were reported favorably by said committee except that 463 was allowed in the sum of $26.50 instead of $51.50, the reduction being for "outage" of street lights in February. Warrants were ordered issued for above demands.

A communication was received from H. P. Coker in regard to the bulkhead protecting his property on Third street at Childs Tract line. Placed on file and referred to the street superintendent.

An ordinance repealing ordinance No. 9, of the City of Glendale (salary ordinance), was taken up and passed first and second reading.

The city engineer was instructed to draft a resolution of intention to improve Cedar street from the south line of Third street to the north line of Sixth street.

The clerk was instructed to communicate with agent for "City Hall" building regarding the erection of a small vault at the rear of said building. The building inspector was authorized and instructed to build a vault of concrete or concrete blocks, said vault to be approximately 4x5 or 6 feet, inside measurement.

"Y" NOTES.

The regular meeting of the "Y" was held at the M. E. church, March 16. After devotional exercises and business, we adjourned to meet again at the home of Mr. Loren Grant, East Sixth street, near Verdugo road, on March 30th. Mr. Charles Swan will conduct the devotional exercises. Subject, "Soldiers and Sailors." All young people earnestly requested to attend.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

On Friday last the track team from the High School, consisting of Joy Goodsell, Richard Stine, Clarence Emery, Owen Rhodes, William Cotterall, Dan McPeak, Vincett Burton, Monroe Walton, Alan Davenport, James Hasselman and Arthur Taylor, went to Whittier for a dual track meet. The day was fine and the boys were in the best of spirits.

The sports were called at 3:00 o'clock, the first event being the 120-yard high hurdles. The first place was taken by Goodsell, second, Taylor, and third, St. Johns of Whittier. Goodsell and Taylor both running a fine race, leaving Whittier's representative far behind.

In the 220-yard hurdles, Goodsell was the only one entered for Glendale, so the most we could do was to take first place, which Jay did without difficulty. Whittier therefore got second and third.

In the hammer throw, Clarence Emery captured first place with a distance of 116½ feet to his credit. Whittier took second and third.

In the 100-yard dash, Goodsell and Stine finished tie for first place, but through some mistake on the part of the judges, Stine was given third and Goodsell first, Whittier taking third.

In the 220-yard dash, Stine came away with first honors, Ballard of Whittier with second, and Cotteral of Glendale, third.

In the 440-yard race Woods of Whittier won first, Cotterall of Glendale, second, and Rhodes of Glendale, third.

In the half-mile run, Walton of Glendale was the winner, finishing with a splendid eighth of a mile sprint second, and third being taken by Bullock and Mann, both of Whittier.

In the mile run, Woods of Whittier took first, running a fine race, the time being five minutes 1 second. Walton taking second and Hazzard of Whittier third.

The short put resulted in first being won by Ballard of Whittier second, Mann of Whittier, and third, Emery of Glendale. Distance 40 feet 1 inches. In this event there were several surprises, three of the men over-reaching their former record. First place was taken by Redman of Whittier, distance 20 feet 10¼ inches. Goodsell taking second, with a jump of 20 feet 9¾ inches, and Rhodes captured third, jumping 19 feet 4½ inches.

The high jump also had surprises for Whittier, Davenport capturing the first, defeating Richman and St. John. Height was 5 feet 4 inches. Davenport received many compliments on the excellent form exhibited.

The pole vault was the last event to come off, although there was also scheduled a relay race. Emery had secured third place in the vaulting and Ballard and Walton were vaulting for first; both had cleared 9 feet 10 inches. It was growing dark rapidly and it was decided to call the met a draw, although Glendale was six or seven points ahead. The Glendale representatives were in every way a credit to our school and the community, both in personal bearing and the character of their achievements. In the league meet to be held at Occidental College campus, March 28, Glendale has high hopes of making more than a creditable showing. Over 100 entries have been made.

This meet will close the track season for the school year, after which will come baseball and tennis.

Miss Margaret Eddleman has entered the eleventh year class from El Monte High. The enrollment is now 121, and Miss Eddleman is the only student who has entered from another California High School during the year, while many have entered from Eastern schools.

Mr. Osborne of the American Book company, and Mr. Burbank of the Ginn company, have been visitors during the week.

The students and teachers are deeply interested in the progress of the petitions to Supt. Keppell to call an election for change of site. This is the first move in the matter of suitable accommodations for the work for next year.

The members of the Senior class have been presenting some very excellent papers in the U. S. History work. They have been upon current problems of interest, such as the Civics of 1907-8, Socialism, the Japanese Question, Presidential Possibilities and probable platforms. Some have consumed a full half hour in reading and have been marked by merit. The Tenth grade and Juniors are also doing some excellent work in historical research and some very interestingly instructive articles have been presented.

The Juniors are to give a picnic to the Seniors on Saturday. 7 a. m. is the hour set for starting, when the picnickers will drive away laden with good things. The teachers have been included in the fun.

Examinations next week. Then spring vacation. No cases of spring fever reported. Everybody busy.

BROTHERHOOD JOINT MEETING.

The three Brotherhods of the Presbyterian, Baptist and Methodist churches held an enjoyable union meeting and social at the residence of Rev. S. Lawrence Ward on Second street, last Tuesday evening, although the Methodists were conspicuous for their absence.

There were about twenty-five guests present. Mr. Ward made a happy welcoming speech to the visitors. Mr. F. H. Wilde also made an appropriate speech along brotherhood lines and Mr. Chas. G. Hezmalhalch contributed an enjoyable recitation. The quartet from the Young Men's Christian Association, Los Angeles, added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion by choice vocal selections. The social feature of the affair was appropriately capped by a very enjoyable luncheon.

GLENDALE, CAL., MARCH 21, 1908

The great editors of the future, who will be able to command fifty thousand dollars a year for their services, will be the men and women who can put the world's daily news and brightest thoughts into the fewest, plainest, simplest and most expressive words which all readers can easily understand.—George T. Angell.

The New York Sun rejoices over the fact that Senator Crane of Massachusetts advises the Republicans of that state to refrain from giving instructions to delegates to the National Republican Convention.

This is an indication of the policy that will be adhered to by the anti-Roosevelt, anti Taft forces. They dare not openly support any candidate, but hope that some happy turn of affairs in the convention will make it possible for them to nominate a candidate acceptable to the "interests."

England, which suffers from the intemperate use of intoxicants even more than America, has entered upon radical legislation by Parliament. The act prepared by the Liberal government provides that one-third of the existing licenses be extinguished with compensation to the holders. At the end of fourteen years the government is to have the right of extinguishing licenses without compensation. No new licenses to be granted without vote of the locality where it is proposed to establish it.

One of the Los Angeles evening papers recently quoted Mr. Wilmot Parcher, president of the Glendale board of trustees, as expressing himself adversely to Catholics as citizens. What the object of this foolish and wilful misstatement was we cannot conceive, for Mr. Parcher entertains views diametrically opposite to such sentiments. We have many reasons in this twentieth century to be thankful for some changes which time has wrought, and for none of them should we be more grateful than for the fact that a civilized community no longer classes a man as either a good or an undesirable citizen by reason of any denominational affiliation.

We wish President Baer, of Occidental College, success in his endeavor to convince President Roosevelt that it is only a minority of the people of the Pacific coast who wish a rigid Japanese exclusion act enacted and and enforced. While we do not want to see unrestricted Asiatic immigration there is and will for a long time to come, be room here for a good many of the industrious workers from Japan and China. They have been an important factor in our development in the past and will continue to fill a necessary place in the body politic in the future. We need most is an exclusion act which will protect us against the hordes of Southern Europe that are coming in at a rate far beyond our powers of assimilation and who far more ruinously compete with free American laborers than there is any prospect of the Asiatics doing.

That "Promising Ticket"

We are informed on excellent authority that of the two tickets to be voted upon here on April 13th, the following is "the most promising:"

Wilmot Parcher
E. A. Brigham
H. C. Ackley
John A. Cole
H. P. Coker.

And possibly such is the case; but not having heard the promises we shall have to suspend judgment. They are very good names; all "good men and true" for aught we know, and would doubtless ornament the city hall with a degree of lustre that would shed glory around for blocks, should they all scintillate at once.

The majority of them possess one particular recommendation: they reside in an especially virtuous quarter of the city, the southwest corner from which the trade winds blow. A line drawn around Seventh and Ninth streets, Glendale avenue and Brand Boulevard, embraces three of them in its mystic circle. One can see with half an eye the inestimable advantages of selecting a quorum of the city rulers from one particular section of the town. There is a splendid opportunity here to show to an awe-struck world the advantages of a real "home" government—a government where the rulers can remain at home.

It has been demonstrated by a potent minority that a city hall is a superfluity, and here is a chance to clinch the argument. The quorum of three can remain at home and transact business. From the upper window of his domicile in Lomita Park one of the newly-elected members can address his experienced near-by confrere on the avenue and get information as to the orthography and geographical location of Verdugo Road; which being digested he can make the proper motion to cover the case. Then the other member on Ninth street, within easy speaking distance, can raise his window and present his resolution providing for the fumigation of all ordinances before final passage in order to insure them against bugs. Debate will be unnecessary, owing to the unanimity pervading the atmosphere of the blessed southwest corner, and thus business can be transacted with neatness and dispatch.

On pleasant summer evenings the other members, one on the upper Boulevard and the other on Third street, east, may come and sit on the front stoops of the respective homes of the mighty and report on the crop of hay seed in their suburbs.

We see in this very "promising" ticket potentialities for good; along the course of procedure which we have so inefficiently outlined there troop the ghosts of tremendous possibilities. Upper windows have too long been monopolized in song and story as the stage fittings for love scenes in which Juliets have thrown amorous eyes to Romeos.

Step aside, my lords and gentlemen; give statesmanship the advantages of the upper story!

The Supreme Court on the Schmitz Case

The seven members of the California Supreme Court have unanimously sustained the decree of the Appellate Court to the effect that the indictment against Eugene Schmitz in the celebrated extortion case in which the ex-mayor was convicted, was illegally drawn.

And as yet we have not noticed that the press of the state, as representing the general public, has charged the members of our highest court with having prostituted their high office for filthy lucre or from any other improper motive. Indeed, the decision of this court seems to have been received in quite the proper spirit, even as if it settled once and for all a vexed question.

But what of the universal expression of more or less righteous indignation that was heard from Siskiyou to San Diego a few weeks ago, when the five members of the Appellate Court gave the original decision in the case? The members of that court were abused in a manner that the people guilty of the criticism ought to be decently ashamed of.

Now that five judges in one court and seven in another have unanimously agreed that Prosecuting Attorneys Heney and Langdon are guilty of having inexcusably bungled in charging Schmitz on one count and trying him on another, perhaps the impetuous general public, speaking through its mouthpieces, the editors who think with their fingers, will be ready to admit that even the judges of the Appellate Court are more capable of passing upon questions of law than the uninformed lay man.

The general public is too ready to convict upon general principles. They would convict a man of murder because it was proved that he was a thief. As Ambrose Bierce or somebody else has well said, public opinion convicts with its heart and not with its head.

It was an unreasonable thing to suppose that five judges of a court could be induced to render a decision contrary to their judgment, and yet public opinion is now clearly convicted of being unreasonable.

There is every reason why we should have the highest regard for the decisions of our courts as a rule. Here and there an occasional judge may be found who is unfitted by temperament to give righteous judgment, and more rarely there may be cases of venality upon the bench; but they are the rare exception The controling motive in the minds of most men occupying judicial positions is to deal out even-handed justice; to give decisions which will stand the tests of the court of final appeal and to merit the honor which attaches to the position.

The unanimous decision of the full bench of our Supreme Court is near enough infallibility for all purposes of human justice. There is no excuse for the cheap criticism of the courts which has become too common among certain classes of our people. It would be better that Ruef and Schmitz should go free than that they should be wrongly convicted. There is, however, but little probability of their escaping punishment for their crimes, if the graft prosecutors are capable of properly framing an indictment and have in their possession the evidence they claim to possess against the accused.

LAYS OF A QUIET TOWN.

LAY IV

The Puzzled Voter.

The melancholy days have come
  Election day draws near,
I can't escape the busy hum,
  That greets my weary ear,
When as I pass along the street,
  Or ride home in the train,
'Most every other man I meet,
  Is fighting a campaign!

There is a fellow whom I've seen,
  A hundred times or more,
I think his name is Brown or Green,
  He's in Blank's dry goods store.
He passes by me on the street,
  And never winks an eye,
Except when the conventions meet
  He's cordial then! Oh my,
He wants to know about the folks,
  The weather and the crops,
He springs on me some musty jokes,
  And casually drops
A hint to let me know that he
  Is wanting my support
To land him as a town trustee
  Or bailiff of the court.

And when at last I break away
  To catch the homeward car,
I hear another statesman say:
  "Ah, Bliffkins, there you are!
I want to have a word or two
  About this nomination,
I may as well be frank with you,
  It seems that all creation
Is bent, on getting me to see
  If I can be elected;
You understand it's not for me,
  But they must be protected."

"The country's going all to smash
  And I have got to save it;
And tho you think, perhaps, I'm rash
  I'll make my affidavit
That if you put me in the place
  At this here next election
You'll benefit the human race
  And save it from dejection."
And then the letters I receive
  From patriots aspiring,
Ought surely make a man believe
  That they would be untiring
In working for the country's good
  In every kind of weather;
And yet I'd have it understood
  I'm puzzled altogether!

Because I cannot understand
  The country's sad condition
When there's material just at hand
  To save it from perdition.
There's Jones and Smith and Green and Brown
  Can save our lives and credit;
I cannot doubt it, for I know
  That they themselves have said it!

THE PASADENA, VERDUGO AND SAN FERNANDO VALLEY RAILROAD.

We are in receipt of a circular letter from the promoters of the "Pasadena, Verdugo and San Fernando Valley Railroad company," M. A. King, president, setting forth their plans and soliciting subscriptions to the capital stock. Among the directors of the enterprise are the names of several property owners and residents of this section. Mr. Gilbert, S. Wright, C. J. Fox, R. H. Brown and the late Dr. H. B. Wing among them. The letter informs us that, "This company is trying to secure a right of way from Pasadena to Hollywood via Eagle Rock, Verdugo and Tropico," and so on to the beaches. It is proposed to organize a Pasadena company with a capital stock of $25,000, one-half paid up, the remainder to be taken up by the stockholders of the present company. This Pasadena company is to secure rights of way from Pasadena into Eagle Rock valley at the present terminus of the Eagle Rock electric road. There the project will be taken up by the Pasadena, Verdugo and San Fernando Railroad company, which will also be organized on a $25,000 capital basis, one-half paid up, and this company will carry the work on to Hollywood. The project is a plausible one and will, no doubt, be carried out successfully some time. The road would enter Glendale from Pasadena on Sixth street. We have always claimed that a road which would put Glendale in close and direct communication with Pasadena and Hollywood, would be of inestimable advantage to us, bringing to our section from the two older sister cities the most desirable class of citizens. The projectors of the enterprise have found it so far impossible to secure a right of way through Griffith Park which intervenes between Tropico and Hollywood, but we would not suppose that Col. Griffith's objections to a road through the edge of the park would be insurmountable. We certainly wish the enterprise success.

SAN FRANCISCO RECEPTION TO THE FLEET.

(Special Correspondence.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—With but two months before it for preparation for the coming of the big battleship fleet, the official committee is doing wonders in the way of making ready for the wonderful show which will mark the week of celebration. In addition to having congregated in San Francisco Bay the greatest aggregation of naval fighting machines that have ever been seen together at one time in such a small space, there will be a gathering of notables from all parts of the country to take part in the festivities of the occasion.

This week of celebration will give visitors an opportunity to see the vast amount of work that has been done in the way of rebuilding in the past two years. There has been no cessation of work and nearly $112,000,000 is the enormous total of money represented in the buildings that have been completed or are in course of erection. This vast expression of energy is, of itself, a sight worth traveling across the continent to see, and when it is coupled with another great show, it makes the greatest event the world has ever known.

When the fleet of warships sailed from Hampton Roads people traveled from all parts of the country to be present ars witnesses of the event, but the sight then presented will have dwindled almost into insignificance, in comparison with what will be presented in San Francisco Bay, when the forty-four vessels of the navy are congregated together at the end of their remarkable cruise around the continent.

San Francisco Bay, always beautiful, will, on this occasion present such a scene as will be memorable, not only in the minds of all who witness it, but also in the annals of the nation. It is the only bay in the world where such a gathering would be possible without interfering with the traffic of the port, and in addition to the fleet of warships there will be large numbers of excursion steamers from points along the coast. What this means in the way of spectacular brilliance can only be realized when seen.

Ashore, the most spectacular event will be the great parade, in which army, navy and civic life will combine to make a showing such as is rarely seen. With some ten thousand officers and men from the ships will be regiments of soldiers from the regular army and other regiments of the National Guard of California, members of the Naval Militia, Grand Army Posts, Veterans of three wars, and various civic organizations, making such a showing of humanity in line as has never been seen on the Pacific Coast, and but rarely presented in the world.

Special arrangements for excursions are being arranged to bring people to San Francisco during the festivities, and other excursions will carry the visitors, both of the navy and of the civilians who come to see the pageant, to different parts of the State.

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett of Orange street, formerly of Ontario, entertained as week-end guests Mrs. Freeman of St. Louis, passing the winter in Pasadena, and Miss France and Mrs. Auger. One of the charming events arranged for their pleasure was a dinner at Casa Verdugo.

Arrangements have been made for the supply of the La Crescenda Church by the Rev. Joseph Overton, of Highland Park, late of Ventura. This church was served for the last seven months by the Rev. W. R. Blackburn of Glendale, with great profit and satisfaction.

Plans are being perfected to give to Glendale, Tropico and Burbank a Sunday School convention at no distant date. All who are interested in the work of the Sabbath School will be glad to know of this and will be ready to co-operate as soon as the plans are announced.

Mrs. E. D. Goode on Tuesday enjoyed luncheon with the Shakespeare club, of which she is a member, at the home of Mrs. J. Frackleton, Eagle Rock. During the afternoon the regular session was called. Several who are not members were entertained and the day was a most enjoyable one.

Mr. J. P. Lukins has had laid the foundation for his fine new home, corner Fourth street and Verdugo Road. The residence will be one story, very roomy, the bedrooms being 16x18. Every modern convenience will be employed for making the house home-like and comfortable. The cost will, perhaps, be $4500.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian Church have induced the pastor to take up a regular course of Bible Study at the Midweek service on Thursday evenings. The first study was given this week. Any who are interested will be welcomed to this service. The work is at present in the Book of Genesis.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Pack enjoyed a very pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Hezmalhalch in Fullerton, the beginning of the week. They found the former Glendalians well and happy and in their usual splendid spirits. One of the pleasures of the day was a fine ride about the country. Baby Lillian and Frederick are enjoying now the best of health.

An entertainment for Wednesday night is planned by the Odd Fellows and the Rebekahs. There will be some fine numbers on the program among them some good music, readings, etc., followed by jolly games. A supper will be served later. Those on the committees are E. D. Goode, Jessie Stine and Mr. Courtney for the Odd Fellows, and Mrs. Goode, Mrs. Stine, Mrs. Courtney and Miss Bulkley for Carnation Lodge.

Those who did not attend the lecture at the Sanitarium last Saturday night missed a treat. Over a hundred were present and many of these took advantage of the opportunity offered at the close of the lecture to visit the bath rooms and see for themselves just how the water treatments are applied. The doctors and nurses were in attendance. To make the demonstration clear some of the young people who were members of the Missionary Volunteer Society took the place of the patients and underwent the treatments.

Although the Sanitarium has a full-fledged pharmacy in the building they administer but little medicine, depending largely on the benefits to be derived from dietics and bathroom treatments.

This series of lectures has been very educational and all who can should take advantage of any that are given in the future.

A NEW FIRE COMPANY.

A number of our young men are taking up the matter of fire protection in the proper enthusiastic spirit that promises excellent results. Company "A" has been organized with H. N. Wilde, captain; Allen Bullis, assistant captain; H. M. Miller and Frank Palmer, nozzlemen; W. S. Mills, W. A. Martin and J. C. Haynes, coupling men. Ladder men will be selected soon. They had an exercise run Wednesday evening which, for a starter, was an immense success. They ran to Lomita Park, to First and Cedar and to Fourth and Cedar and at all these points made connections with the fire hydrants with the five hundred foot hose. Actual time in making connection and getting water through the hose after arrival at the hydrant was less than two minutes. There is a fire company at the Sanitarium and others are soon to be organized. Company "A" desires herein to issue a challenge to any company within the city limits, now in existence, or to be formed hereafter, to meet it in a trial contest for speed, endurance and general efficiency. They will go out with the wagon next Tuesday night, reinforced by new members.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETIES.

A number of the Presbyterian ladies of Glendale, among them Mrs. Elias Ayers, Mrs. S. M. Galloway, Miss Rachel M. Sherer, Mrs. S. L. Ward, Mrs Harrison and Miss Stiver, visited Pasadena Wednesday and Thursday last in attendance at the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Societies of the Los Angeles Presbytery. One of the principal features of the meetings was an address by Mrs. F. H. Robinson, the first president of the association which was organized at Anaheim twenty-five years ago. Her subject was "Pioneer Days." It is an interesting fact to note that at that time Anaheim was the only place in Los Angeles having a Presbyterian church large enough for the gathering. The Presbyterians had an organization in Los Angeles but no church building. There were two hundred delegates at the Pasadena meeting and a large number of other ladies interested in missionary work.

ARRIVALS AT WOOD'S HOTEL.

Among the late arrivals at this hotel are the following:

C. J. Stinel, wife and daughter, Hollywood, Cal.; W. A. Echols and wife, Glendale; E. Rankin, Highland Park; Mr. Ragle, Highland Park; J. J. Merritt, Los Angeles; Bert G. Wood, Pasadena, Cal.; E. A. Healy, Los Angeles; C. S. Fackenthall, Los Angeles; C. D. Thomas, Peoria, Ill.; Bert Jesseph, Glendale; E. D. Burbank, Los Angeles.

FEIS CEOIL.

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated in a thorough unique and enjoyable manner at the Presbyterian manse, under the very capable direction of Mrs. Daniel Campbell of Ard E'evin, assisted by the ladies of the very much alive aid society of the Presbyterian church.

"Early in the mornin'" Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. B. H. Nichols, Mrs. Thomas Ogg and Mrs. Hoffman took possession of the hospitable manse which under their manipulation soon radiated the spirit of Erin. Green flags bearing the harp and the shamrock fluttered in every room. The dining room table was covered with "real sod" interspersed abundantly with shamrock, of which a centerpiece was also made with the addition of silk Irish flags. The feast was truly Irish, Shrewsbury and slim cakes, fadge, sultana, pound and sponge cakes, and just such tea as the Irish use.

"Cead mille fail" on the banner outside breathed "one hundred thousand welcomes" and local society responded after two o'clock about every society and fraternity in our valley was represented.

Little Blythe Monroe covered herself with glory when she won the award of Irish bon-bons for a real jig, and Mrs. Campbell outshone herself in a little speech which began with sparkling wit and native humor and ended with a sweet pathos breathing Irish inspiration. Rev. Ward gave briefly the life of Ireland's patron saint. Fine numbers were two violin solos by Master Elliot Albright, accompanied by Mrs. Albright, and the sweetest of Irish melodies rendered by Mrs. Lillian Dow, accompanied by Mr. Howard M. Dow.

Mr. Charles Warner of Los Angeles for a good half-hour entertained the audience with his bubbling wit and clever pantomine. During the last hour the tea and Irish edibles were served in the dining room, and on the veranda, arranged like a green nook, was served delicious fruitade to nearly two hundred guests. Several young ladies en costume and ten members of the society, in white and "wearing the green," attended the duty of dispensing the abundant refreshments.

CANDIDATES FOR CITY OFFICES.

As published in last week's News, there are two tickets in the field from which the voters may take their choice on April 13th for municipal officials. The ticket selected at the Odd Fellows Hall meeting is as follows:

For Trustees—Wilmot Parcher, W. A. Anderson, T. W. Watson, H. P. Coker and John A. Cole. Of these the first three named are present incumbents. Mr. G. B. Woodberry for city clerk, and Mr. H. N. Miller, for city marshal, complete the ticket.

An opposition ticket has been put up as follows:

Trustees—Wilmot Parcher, H. P. Coker, John A. Cole, E. A. Brigham and H. C. Ackley. In addition to this Mr. Simeon Grant has been put in nomination by the proper petition. Excepting Mr. Parcher, none of them have previously held office in Glendale.

Mr. G. B. Woodberry is the nominee on this ticket for city clerk and Mr. O. E. Patterson for town marshal. There has been a heavy registration of new voters and altogether it promises to be a very interesting campaign.

LINCOLN-ROOSE'ELT REPUBLICAN LEAGUE MEETING.

SCIENCE NOTES.

In the matter of astronomical research Southern California is surely taking a leading place and securing international renown as is shown by the following extract taken from the current number of Popular Astronomy, a Massachusetts publication.

Carnegie Solar Observatory on Mount Wilson.

In a recent lecture Prof. Geo. E. Hale gave a description of the new tower telescope, and the tests already made with it. This telescope consists of a vertical steel tower sixty-five feet in height, on the summit of which are mounted two plane mirrors which receive the rays of the sun and reflect them vertically downward to an object glass twelve inches in diameter lying horizontally just below the mirrors. This glass has a focal length of sixty feet and forms an image of the sun sixty feet below 6½ inches in diameter in a laboratory at the base of the tower. In connection with these mirrors is a spectroscope over thirty feet long, which extends down into a deep well, with concrete walls, beneath the floor of the laboratory. Any of the peculiar disturbances on the sun, such as flames at its edge or sun spots may be investigated by means of this spectroscope. The tower telescope embodies many new features, and the preliminary tests show that it will prove superior to the snow telescope, which is horizontal. It will be used exclusively for work on the sun.

Besides the tower and snow telescopes Professor Ritchie has completed the work on a great sixty-inch mirror, which is expected to be more powerful than any optical instrument now in use.

Professor Hale then explained to the audience the work on the great Hooker telescope, of which the mirror will be 100 inches—more than eight feet—across. The glass disc is now being cast in France, and when completed will weigh more than eight tons and a half. The 60-inch glass will be in place next summer, but it will be several years before the Hooker lens is ready for work.

Wireless Telephone.

Another wonderful development of wireless communication at a distance is reported in the installation in Los Angeles of Collins's Wireless Telephone, which may now be seen in operation at the office of the company at the corner of Third and Main streets. Mr. W. A. Mears, the Pacific Coast representative of the company, states that the invention is already being operated in a radius of thirty-five miles round the city. It is stated to have many advantages over wireless telegraphy. It is simple and inexpensive. Distance makes no difference to it and neither mountains, oceans or deserts offer any obstruction to it. It will be invaluable for communication between persons in inaccessible situations both on land and water, and seems destined to occupy a very wide field.

Wireless Telegraphy.

Is making great strides, and every week the New York Times prints a whole page of aerograms received from London by the Marconi system.

We can scarcely recover from the surprise of one marvellous invention befcre another is reported. The latest "wireless" idea is a torpedo which, it is reported, may be controlled either from the ship or from shore. It seems cnyl a few steps from these astonishing feats to control by thought-waves, which, indeed, may be nearer accomplishment than at present seems possible.

Bacteriology.

In the biological section of the Los Angeles Academy of Science, an exceedingly interesting lecture was given on Monday evening at the College of Osteopathy in East Los Angeles by Dr. E. L. Leonard, formerly city bacteriologist of Los Angeles. Bacteriology is a very large subject, and the lecturer confined herself to but one phase of it, viz., tuberculosis. Dr. Leonard lucidly described some very wonderful discoveries by Sir Albert Wright at the St. Agnes hospital, London, where she had the advantage of working with him for about six months last year. It has been found that bacteria taken from a patient suffering from tuberculosis and subjected to heat, thereby destroying their vitality, killing them in fact, form a true antitoxin for the same person, when administered in proper doses. It will not do to take the bacteria from one person to administer to another—they would be ineffective or prejudicial. It thus appears that the possession of bacteria is a personal matter, those of every person possessing inherent peculiarities which differentiate them from those of every other person. The learned lady held the close attention of her large audience for over one hour, discoursing on this difficult subject without notes, in a pleasant conversational style, and with the ease only acquired by perfect familiarity with the subject.

Moving Pictures in Clinical Demonstrations.

News comes from the University of Turin in Italy that Professor Camillo Negro is successfully using the cinematograph for clinical purposes in cases of nervous disorder.

While the professor is explaining each case the cinematograph is at the same time reproducing all the peculiar movements of which it is impossible to give an idea by a simple photographic plate.

Thus the toys of our childhood become the instruments of sterner purpose in the hands of ever vigilant science.

SILVER MEDAL CONTEST.

The silver medal oratorical contest given at G. A. R. hall, Friday evening, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. organizations of Tropico, Glendale and Burbank and N. P. Banks W. R. C., proved of unusual interest and merit.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Wood, president of the W. C. T. U. society of Burbank. The contestants were Miss Catherine Hornby, Miss Ruth Bailey, Miss Marie Kern, Miss Agnes Wolverine, Miss Gertrude Phoenix and Miss Ruth Phoenix, all of Burbank. Miss Susie Cluggage of Burbank, who received the silver medal at the contest held in Burbank recently, recited, at the close of the contestant's program "Mrs. Hennessey."

The handsome silver medal was awarded Miss Ruth Bailey by Rev. Henry, pastor of the First Methodist-Episcopal church of Tropico.

The judges were Rev. Henry, Charles Barker and David H. Imler.

Mrs. Menzes rendered several piano solos and Miss Imogene McKown sang in a most charming manner two solos, one of which, a vocal medley, was of her own composition and arrangement. Mrs. E. L. Wood appreciated the hearty welcome accorded herself and contestants, and the kindly endorsement of the principles of the noble cause of temperance which she and the contestants loyally advocate.

JAPAN AND CHINA.

The undisputed fact is that on February 7 some Chinese gunboats seized near Macao the Japanese steamship Tatsu Maru and took her to Canton on the charge that although her cargo was consigned to a Macao merchant she intended to smuggle arms and ammunition into Chinese territory for the use of rebels. The Japanese on their part allege that the seizure was made in Portuguese waters, the Tatsu Maru having anchored off Macao, which it will be remerbered is an insular seaport which constitutes one of the last surviving remnants of Portugal's former eastern empire. In the second place the Japanese assert that the steamer held a regular permit, issued by the Portuguese officials, authorizing her to land at Macao the arms and ammunition on board, which were openly declared in the ship's papers.

If these Japanese contentions are well founded the Chinese gunboats had no right to touch the Tatsu Maru or its cargo, and should have postponed a seizure of the arms and ammunition until an attempt should have been made to transport them from Macao to the agents of the rebels on the neighboring mainland. Evidently this is a matter where the evidence should be scrutinized judiciously by a tribunal in which both parties should be equally represented, or by a reference to the Hague court of arbitration.—N. Y. Sun.

THE LATEST—A STUDIO TEA!

A most charming social affair is being planned for the fifth Tuesday, March 31st, to be given under the auspices of the Tuesday Afternoon club in their library and club rooms on Third street, when Mrs. Dr. Robert A. Blackburn and Miss Mary Blackburn, a local artist of pronounced talent, will act as hostesses of the day. These two ladies have the most delightful plans for an affair which will be truly artistic and enjoyable in every detail. The room will represent an up-to-date studio and prominent and active club workers have been chosen to pour tea and offer hospitality. The studio will be arranged for the pleasure of the public, as the mite-box will be in evidence, its contents to go toward swelling the library fund. For this object the fifth Tuesdays have been chosen by the club committee having this matter in charge, and if plans carry, these events will be original and enjoyable, and very welcome additions to local social affairs. Every one interested in the success of our Public Library and the occasional purchase of new books, will be welcomed. This will be the second of the series of "Fifth Tuesday Teas." The first having been given by Mrs. John Hawken of North Glendale.

AN IMPRESSIVE MEMORIAL.

Among the loyal friends who attended the beautiful memorial service held in loving appreciation of the late Edward S. Fuller, in the Unitarian church, Los Angeles, were Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Russell and Miss Una Russell, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Goss and son, Wm Goss, Mrs. Burket and others. The services consisted largely of sweetest music, including most beautiful numbers by Prof. Colby, Prof. Strowbridge, the Congregational tribute, and the schools loving service. The Pilgrim Chorus from "Tannhauser," by the Gamut club was a prayer that touched the large audience, leaving few dry eyes in the crowded auditorium. The memorial address was given by the Rev. Howard, pastor, and the entire service was an expression of love and devoted memory for the departed one, who, as their organist, had so long spoken their prayers through his inspired music.

TAKE IN THE STRANGER.

A stranger coming to Glendale and desiring to spend some days here, must, unless he has secured accommodations beforehand, be impressed with the apparent absence of the accommodations which a proper hospitality affords. He will find our one small hotel filled and the two or three boarding houses of our town in a similar congested condition. We doubt if there is a town in Los Angeles county where public accommodations for visitors is so ridiculously inadequate. Our population is increasing rapidly and constantly and the faces of strangers seen upon our streets are noticeably greater in number day by day. There is room here for a hotel of from 25 to 50 rooms, and properly managed, it would be a paying investment.

But even if we cannot get the hotel, we should at least have an addition to the number of boarding houses where strangers can be accommodated day and night.

SUSPICIOUS.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Brown of East 6th st., were aroused at 2 a. m. Thursday, by the barking of their dog. Getting up to investigate, Mr. Brown found a bare-footed man under a tree near the house, held at bay by the faithful dog which would not allow its quarry to advance or retreat, but held him until Mr. Brown appeared. The man made a lame attempt to explain his presence by saying that he was merely going to the barn to sleep, but the fact that he had removed his shoes while some distance from the house and had walked by preference through the ploughed ground rather than follow the road, made explanations rather diaphanous. There being no overt act committed, however, he was permitted to retire and enjoined to do so quickly.

THE LINCOLN-ROOSEVELT REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

The power of the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. in our political affairs, is undeniable. It has continued for years and whether it is to be a permanency depends entirely upon the Republican voters. If the voters consider it desirable that the railroad company should continue to exercise the power which our constitution delegates to the voters themselves, there is nothing that need be done. Primaries may be neglected as as old; the party ticket fixed up by a minority may be sustained at the polls, and the thing is done, now as in years past. If, however, the voters believe that our celebration of the Fourth of July means something and that it is their duty to do something to show their belief in the ideas ennunciated by Lincoln, they will "hereby highly resolve, that the government of the people by the people and for the people shall not perish from the earth." And having so resolved they will proceed to put their resolution into practical effect. This can be done in no better manner at the present time than by joining the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League movement, which has for its object the wrestling of the machinery of the party from the existing organization which controls it. It is the intention of this organization to support the nominees of the Republican conventions, but to wage a fight at the primaires to control the conventions. The Glendale branch of the league meets at the city hall tonight (Saturday) at eight o'clock.
